The program of the coming week will include three important conferences—one in the interest of the Woman's Missionary Union, one in the interest of the "Million and a Half Campaign" and one in the interest of foreign missions. More than usual interest is attached to the second of these conferences, in view of the fact that it will take the place of the conference of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, and will be conducted by the men who are most prominently identified with that movement in the Southern Presbyterian Church. It is probable that the largest number of ministers and laymen that have ever assembled at Montreat will be here to altend the sessions of this conference. This will be the first conference this will be the first conference held in the interest of the "Million and a haif Campaign," this campaign being a new feature in the church and having been inaugurated by order of the General Assembly of the present year. The object of this campaign is fourfold. I. Special evangelistic effort and prayer in every church for a great ingathering of souls. 2. A simultaneous every-member calwass for all benevolent causes in every church in the Assembly, in March, 1813. 3. At least one million ber canvass for all benevolent causes in every church in the Assembly, it March, 1813. 3. At least one million dollars piedged for 1912-14 for all the Assembly's causes. 4. Five hundred thousand dollars for exemsion and special equipment at home and abroad. The campaign committee, representing each of the four executive committee of the church, is composal oministers and laymen who are prominently identified with the work of those committees. Rev. J. P. McCallie ib. D. of Chattanooga, is chairman of the campaign committee; Charles A Rowland, of Athens, Georgia, is vice chairman, John J. Eagan, of Nashville is treasurer. priests—who are the great ailles of women there—it is amazing how eleverity the latter manage to obtain their own way. In every native house of any importance especially in the older painces, there is within the Zenana an apartment known as the "sulking room" where the wife may seclide herself from her husband, until finally in sheer despectation he yields to her wishes, whatever they may be. Indeed in several parts of India the Begums have played a very important role in history, as rulers, stateswomen, and even as military leaders—but allways from behind the veil, which after all is the real secret of ruling.
